B.4b	Known trends affecting the issuer and the industries in which it operates	[If the Issuer is Société Générale: Société Générale continues to be subject to the usual risks and the risks inherent to its business. More specifically, the Group could be affected by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- The risks to global growth have ramped up owing to the high level of political uncertainty. The markets will continue to dwell on the negotiations between the US and China. The risk of new obstacles stemming from world trade tensions, no Brexit deal and euro zone policy, notably the European Parliament elections at the end of May, remains high. And this applies against the backdrop of high debt levels and unstable financial markets.</li> <li>- Business seems to be losing pace in the approach to 2019 on emerging markets, undercut by the decline in world demand and by the tightening of world financial conditions. Emerging Asia remains the strongest growth region. Central and eastern Europe are also showing resilience in the face of the loss of pace in the euro zone.</li> <li>- In Russia, the economy should resist the impact of sanctions in the short term and the underlying financial situation is still sound. In Brazil, the new administration will have to undertake pension reforms, essential to correct the fiscal base.</li> <li>- In terms of shift in central bank monetary policies: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>o The Federal Reserve is determined to scale down its balance sheet and is likely to raise rates in 2019. However, the recent increase in volatility on financial markets and the global revaluation of risk premiums could prompt the Fed to pause its monetary tightening.</li> <li>o The ECB has confirmed that it will have put an end to its net asset purchases as of January 2019. It is unlikely to raise interest rates before the end of the summer 2019. The situation is unclear given the euro zone slowdown that has set in since the end of 2018.</li> </ul> </li> <li>- 2019 will also be characterised by geopolitical uncertainty, in prolongation of a number of events over the last two years.</li> <li>- For 2019, the regulatory timetable is likely to loom large in the European legislative process with regard to the set of texts on sustainable finance (taxonomy, disclosures and benchmarks), in continuation of the third target for the Paris agreements (reorientation of financial flows towards decarbonised businesses), plus the revision to prudential rules applicable to investment companies (Investment Firms Review – IFR).</li> </ul> Against this backdrop, and to generate responsible and profitable growth, the Group’s main priorities in 2019 will be to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- growth via implementation of the Group’s key revenues initiatives;</li> <li>- accelerate transformation of all businesses and functions, notably for the French retail relationship model, and adapt the Global Markets strategy;</li> <li>- deliver on costs (notably an additional EUR 500m cost reduction in Global Banking and Investor Solutions) and maintain strict control of risks and selective capital allocation;</li> <li>- continue its refocusing, via the disposal or closure of businesses lacking critical size or not offering sufficient synergies, with a target raised from 50-60bp to 80-90bp of impact on the CET 1 ratio by the end of 2020;</li> </ul>

An investment in the Notes involves certain risks which should be assessed prior to any investment decision.

In particular, the Group is exposed to the risks inherent in its core businesses, including:

- Risks related to the macroeconomic, market and regulatory environments

The global economy and financial markets continue to display high levels of uncertainty, which may materially and adversely affect the Group’s business, financial position and results of operations.

The Group’s results may be adversely affected by regional market exposures.

Brexit and its impact on financial markets and the economic environment could have an adverse impact on the Group’s activities and results of operations

Increased competition, by both banking and non-banking actors, is likely to have an adverse effect on the Group’s businesses and results, both in its domestic French market and internationally.

The Group is subject to an extensive supervisory and regulatory framework in each of the countries in which it operates and changes in this regulatory framework could have a significant effect on the Group’s businesses, position, costs, as well as on the financial and economic environment in which it operates.

The Group may generate lower revenues from brokerage and other commission- and fee-based businesses during market downturns.

- Credit Risks

The Group is exposed to counterparty and concentration risks, which may have a material adverse effect on the Group’s business, results of operations and financial position.

The financial soundness and conduct of other financial institutions and market participants could adversely affect the Group.

The Group’s results of operations and financial position could be adversely affected by a late or insufficient provisioning of credit exposures.

- Market and Structural Risks

The volatility of the financial markets may cause the Group to suffer significant losses on its trading and investment activities.

Changes in interest rates may adversely affect the Group’s Banking and Asset Management businesses.

Fluctuations in exchange rates could adversely affect the Group’s results.

The protracted decline of financial markets or reduced liquidity in such markets may make it harder to sell assets or manoeuvre trade positions and could lead to material losses for certain activities of the Group.

The Group’s hedging strategies may not prevent all risk of losses.

- Operational Risks

Operational failure, termination or capacity constraints affecting institutions the Group does business with, or failure or breach of the Group’s information technology systems, could result in losses and damages to the reputation of the Group.

The Group may incur losses as a result of unforeseen or catastrophic events, including terrorist attacks or natural disasters.

The Group is exposed to legal risks that could negatively affect its financial position or results of operations.

Reputational damage could harm the Group's competitive position.

- Model Risks

The Group's risk management system, based notably on models, may not be effective and may expose the Group to unidentified or unanticipated risks, which could lead to significant losses.

- Funding Risks

A number of exceptional measures taken by governments, central banks and regulators could have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, results of operations and financial position.

The Group's dependence on its access to financing and its liquidity constraints may have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, financial position and results of operations.

- Strategic and business risks

Risks related to the implementation of the Group's strategic plan.

To prepare its consolidated financial statements in accordance with IFRS as adopted by the European Union, the Group relies on assumptions and estimates which, if incorrect, could have a significant adverse impact on its financial statements.

If the Group makes an acquisition, it may be unable to manage the integration process in a cost-effective manner or achieve the expected benefits.

The Group's inability to attract and retain qualified employees, as well as significant changes in the regulatory framework related to human resources management processes and compensation, may adversely affect its performance.
